PhD PROGRAMME RULES 2009

1. PART – A: ACADEMIC

1.1 Eligibility Criteria

- 1.1.1 For ISEC PhD Fellowships or Part-time or External PhD Studentship there is no age limit. For Indian Council of Social Science Research or Reserve Bank of India or any other sponsored PhD Fellowship the applicants must normally be below 35 years of age (40 years for SC/ST candidates). In case of teachers and members of professional staff in research Institutions the age limit is 40 years. The applicants should have obtained a master's degree of a University with a first or a high second class, preferably with one or two years of teaching/research experience and satisfy any other eligibility criteria as stipulated by the Academic Programmes Committee of Institute, from time to time. The PhD Fellowship is awarded in social science disciplines. The number of PhD Fellowship awarded and the subjects in which they are awarded are determined after taking into account the suitability of candidates, availability of finance and supervisors and other relevant considerations.

1.2 Schedule of PhD Admission Every Year

1.3 Selection Process

1.3.1 Evaluation of Proposal of Full/Part Time PhD Applications

- a) Every applicant is required to submit a research proposal along with the application. The proposal will be sent to the concerned Centres for evaluation.
- b) Anonymity of the applicant shall be strictly maintained when the proposal is sent for evaluation.
- c) Each proposal will be examined by two faculty members from the Centre and one faculty member from outside the Centre. The process may take 2 to 4 days.
- d) Evaluation will be done keeping in view newness of the research area, clarity of research questions, familiarity with current literature/debates, etc.
- e) Minimum qualifying marks for the proposal: 12 for General Category and 10 for SC/ST out of a maximum of 30.
- f) Average of the marks awarded by the three evaluators will be taken into consideration. Extreme cases of discrepancy in evaluation – that is a difference of 10 marks or more – will be adjudicated by the Director and the VC, APC.
- g) Proposal is a screening device only. Once qualified, marks obtained in the proposal will not come into picture in the final selection.

1.3.2 Weightage of marks

The total marks of 100 will have the following three components: (a) 20% is for PG, M Phil, NET/SLET, publications or JRF to be determined as per (a) and (b) below. The written test marks will be for 50% as per (c) below and 30% will be for centre-level interview as per (d) below.

- a) There will be a weightage of 20% marks for the following qualifications. This will be determined as follows:
  - i) Masters Degree – 10 (the aggregate percentage of PG marks divided by 10); ii) M.Phil. (if degree awarded) – 10; M.Phil. (if in progress) – 5 (M Phil degree by the Universities approved by UGC should alone be given weightage of marks; (iii) NET or SLET Pass 10; (iv) Research Publications – 5 marks per paper (Maximum not exceeding 10). Newspaper articles will not be considered for the purpose. Only articles with independent/joint authorship in peer-reviewed journals will be considered). Aggregate of (i) to (iv) is reduced to scale of 20.
- b) There will be separate weightage of 20 marks for candidates qualified with JRF. However, they will not get the benefit listed under (a) above.
- c) Written Test: There will be a written test for 50 per cent weightage. The test will be for a maximum of 100 marks. Minimum marks for a pass in the written test are 50 per cent for General Merit candidates and 45 per cent for SC/ST candidates. The marks so secured will be reduced to 50 per cent.
- d) Centre-level Interview: There will be a Centre-level Interview for 30 per cent weightage to assess the candidate's abilities on i) Comprehension and response, ii) Understanding, iii) Communication skills and iv) Aptitude/behaviour. Each of these components will carry 7.5 per cent weightage.

The marks obtained in stage-I (JRF/PG/NET/M Phil/Publication) and II (written test marks by the students qualified for Centre-level Interview should be given to all the Members of the Centre Level Interview Committee).

The Centre-level Interview Committee should rank the candidates as (a) Very Good, (b) Good, (c) Average and (d) Below Average. The Committee should moderate on the rankings which eventually would guide the final selection.

- e) Cumulative marks of (a or b), (c) and (d) above will form the basis of final selection.

[Decision of Fourth APC minutes, Agenda Item No.2 dt: 28.07.2009

the marks obtained in Stage-I (JRF or PG/NET/M Phil/Publication) and II (Written test marks) by the students qualified for Centre-level Interview should be given to all the members of the Centre-level Interview Committee.

the M Phil degree by the Universities approved by UGC should alone be given weightage of marks.

the Centre-level Interview Committee should rank the candidates as (i) Very good, (ii) good, (iii) Average and (iv) below-average. The Committee should moderate on the rankings which eventually would guide the final selection.

Marks obtained at all levels by a student will be available to the Final Selection Committee which will take a final decision about selection considering (a), (b) and (c) above].

1.3.3 Components of Question Papers: The question papers will consist of the following components in Economics and non-Economics disciplines.

(a) In Economics:

Objective type questions (30%)

Analytical questions on micro-economics, macro-economics and basic statistics and econometrics (55%).

Essay type question/s (15%)

(b) In non-Economics subjects:

Objective type questions (40%)

Essay type questions (60%)

Essay type questions should be designed to test candidates on specific concepts and theories. Broad and general questions must be avoided.

1.3.4 Centre-level Interview

- (a) Interviews for Selection will be held at the Centre level. This Interview Committee will consist of Head of the Centre, all Professors of the Centre, one faculty from outside the Centre, the Director, ICSSR Representative and one external expert. Other faculty members from the Centre may be invited by the Head. Director will invite the PhD Programme Coordinator to the Centre-level Interview Committee.

(An external expert in Economics and another in non-economics streams nominated by the Director will be invited to the Interview Committee. The expert in Economics discipline will be common for Agricultural Economics, Economics, Environmental Economics and Population Studies while the expert belonging to non-Economics stream will be common for all the other disciplines).

- b) The total number of members in the Committee shall normally not exceed six.

1.3.5 Final PhD Selection Committee:

- a) The Final PhD Selection Committee will consist of (1) the Director, (2) Heads of Centres, (3) all Professors, (4) the ICSSR Representative, (5) The PhD. Coordinator, and (6) The Assistant Registrar (Academic).
- b) Preference will be given for (a) local knowledge, (b) ability to convert a problem into problematic in research, (c) data handling capability. These components will be considered at the interview stage

1.4 Conditions of Award

- 1.4.1 The PhD Fellowship is awarded initially for one year when the students should pass the Foundation Coursework. After successful passing of the Coursework, they will be offered ISEC or ICSSR Fellowship as per prevailing terms and conditions. Students having JRF will be governed by UGC norms. PhD Scholars could be retained on the PhD rolls until completion of 5 years from date of registration, extendable by two more years, as per university norms. PhD Scholars not submitting their thesis within six years from date of joining the PhD Programme at ISEC will forfeit the right to the unutilised contingency grant and the last month's fellowship amount.
- 1.4.2 The full time PhD Scholars should submit an undertaking not to leave the PhD Programme before submission of the thesis and to repay the PhD Fellowship/contingency received by them, in case of leaving the PhD Programme in the middle without permission.
- 1.4.3 The PhD Programme is full time and PhD Scholars should normally be in residence at the Institute hostel, throughout the period of the receipt of PhD Fellowship, except when they are on field work or on leave under the rules applicable to them.
- 1.4.4 A PhD Scholar shall not join any other course by any University or public body, or accept full-time/part-time appointment in any organisation during the period of PhD Fellowship. Conversion of PhD Fellowship to part-time PhD Studentship may be permitted after completion of two years in the PhD Programme and are willing to furnish an undertaking to comply with the requirements of PhD Programme Rules and to submit the thesis within the period decided by ISEC. Such requests should be considered by a Committee consisting of the Director, the Vice-Chairman of Academic Programmes Committee, the Supervisor concerned and the PhD Programme Coordinator. This is applicable to all the PhD Fellows, irrespective whether they hold UGC/SRTT/ICSSR/ISEC or any other fellowship.

PhD Scholars leaving the programme without prior permission should refund the entire amount of fellowship including contingency.

- 1.4.5 In case a PhD Scholar wishes to discontinue from the PhD programme in the middle without completing it, he/she shall:
  - (a) Refund the entire PhD Fellowship/contingency received;
  - (b) Submit a report of the work done by him/her during his/her stay in the programme;
  - (c) Obtain prior permission of the Director
  - (d) Not be eligible for re-admission to the PhD programme.
- 1.4.6 The Institute facilitates enrollment, registration process, conduct of viva-voce and other requirements, as required by the university concerned, subject to the PhD Scholar and the supervisor fulfilling necessary requirements.

1.5 Periodical Reports

- 1.5.1 The ICSSR Institutional PhD Scholars shall submit six-monthly progress report of the work done by them to the ICSSR through proper channel.
- 1.5.2 The UGC Junior/Senior Research PhD Scholars shall submit annual progress report to the UGC through proper channel.
- 1.5.3 All the PhD Scholars shall submit periodical detailed progress reports to the University in which they are registered, without fail.

1.6 Bi-annual Seminar Series:

- 1.6.1 In June: First Year PhD Scholars shall present a seminar on the broad area of their research interest.
- 1.6.2 By September: First year PhD Scholars shall present a preliminary proposal to their Doctoral Committee.
- 1.6.3 In December: First year PhD Scholars shall present the final proposal at the Bi-annual Seminar series.
- 1.6.4 Any first year scholar, who along with his/her supervisor and DC feels that a proposal is ready for presentation in the Bi-Annual Seminar in June, is welcome to do so.
- 1.6.5 The Bi-Annual Seminar Series structure will be mainly for PhD Scholars to report the progress made during the preceding six months.
- 1.6.6 Pre-submission seminar will be scheduled as and when the scholar is ready.
- 1.6.7 The Bi-Annual Seminars will be held from third Monday of every June and December, respectively.
- 1.6.8 The pre-submission (final) seminar shall be presented before the completion of 4 years covering substantive findings of the study. The pre-submission seminars shall be presented only after the draft synopsis of the thesis to be submitted to the university is finalised. A spiral bound copy of the draft thesis should be on display before the seminar.
- 1.6.9 Chairpersons: Chairpersons of seminars will be normally drawn from among all faculty and Visiting Professors.
- 1.6.10 The PhD student and the supervisor concerned have to work out a suitable programme for the field work such that it does not clash with the bi-annual seminar dates. But, if the field work spreads to 3-4 months, the Director may permit exemption from one biannual seminar during the entire period of PhD Programme.

1.7 PhD Enrollment, Pre-registration and Pre-thesis submission Colloquia

- 1.7.1 PhD Scholars desirous of registering with the University of Mysore/ Mangalore have to first get enrolled by completing the required formalities.
- 1.7.2 PhD Scholars desirous of registering with the University of Mysore have to present a pre-registration Colloquium and complete all other formalities after the successful completion of the PhD Foundation course work. All such eligible PhD Scholars shall submit to the office their application for registration duly filled-in with necessary supporting documents before the prescribed time. Students registering in Development Studies should invite Director of IDS, University of Mysore, Mysore for the pre-registration Colloquium. Students registering with any other University should comply with all the requirements therein.

1.7.3 PhD Scholars registered with the University of Mysore have to present a Pre-thesis submission Colloquium before the actual submission of the thesis to the University. Students of Development Studies should invite Director of IDS, University of Mysore, Mysore for the Pre-thesis submission Colloquium.

1.7.4 PhD Scholars should satisfy all the requirements of the University in which they are registered. All correspondence relating to the PhD Programme with the University should be through the Institute only.

1.8 Panelists for the Bi-Annual seminars

1.8.1 The panel of experts will consist of two members. One nominated by the Director and another by the Supervisor. The Panel members' comments/suggestions shall be made available to the concerned Scholar and the Supervisor.

1.8.2 As far as possible the same panelists will be retained during succeeding bi-annual seminars. The Supervisors, with the Director's approval, may have an additional panel member if the situation so demands.

1.8.3 PhD Scholar desiring to have an additional panelist from among the PhD Scholars during his/her Seminar Presentation will have the option to choose one.

1.9 Doctoral Committee

1.9.1 There will be a Doctoral Committee (DC) for every PhD Scholar to monitor and evaluate a) periodical progress of the scholar, b) conduct pre-registration Colloquium, c) convene pre-thesis submission Colloquium and d) hold viva-voce examination. The Doctoral Committee (DC) will consist of the Director (Chairperson), Supervisor, a nominee of the Supervisor, and two nominees of the Director from a panel of 3-4 names provided by the Supervisor after obtaining their consent. The Committee is expected to ensure good quality presentation in the bi-annual seminars, monitor incorporation of assessment panelists' comments and overall quality of the thesis. The Committee can meet as often as required. However, it should compulsorily meet twice in a year preceding the bi-annual seminars. The DC will be advisory in nature and no member shall enjoy the vetoing power.

1.9.2 In addition to the DC members, with the Director's approval, additional subject experts may be invited for the DC meeting by the supervisor.

1.9.3 A Doctoral Committee will be constituted for every PhD Scholar within six months from the date of joining. If the allotted Supervisor goes on long leave, or leaves the services of the Institute, the day-to-day administration of the PhD Scholar concerned shall be assigned to one of the concerned DC members. In such cases, the Supervisor should write to the PhD Programme Coordinator or Assistant Registrar (Acad) clearly suggesting such an arrangement, before going on long leave/leaving the services.

1.10 Pre-thesis submission requirements

1.10.1 The PhD Scholar should have at least two research publications or acceptance letter from the publishers of the journals, based on the thesis work in a standard research journal of repute and the same shall be certified by the Doctoral Committee.

1.10.2 The PhD Scholar should submit the thesis to the University before six months period from date of presentation of the pre-submission seminar. For any delay thereafter the PhD Scholar should submit an explanation. Based on the guide's recommendation, the Director may take final decision regarding extension of time.

1.10.3 The Institute shall not forward the synopsis/thesis to the University until the PhD Scholars take permission from the Director after satisfying that the final thesis has been finalised in the light of the comments/suggestions of the Doctoral Committee and the panel of experts in the pre-submission thesis seminar.

1.10.4 Part Time or External or Affiliated PhD Scholars (including the Teacher Fellows under FIP), should comply with the pre-registration, bi-annual and pre thesis submission seminar requirements. The synopsis/thesis shall be forwarded to the University concerned only after these requirements are fully complied with.

1.11 Structure of PhD Foundation Course:

1.11.1 Course Schedule - Course Work

Parts	Duration	Examination	Course Details
Part-A	August to November (4 months)	Term-end exam: Early December	FIVE papers are offered; Research Methodology and Perspectives in Social Science are common for all. Basic Statistics is common for all non-Economics disciplines. Besides, there will be TWO discipline specific papers for non-Economics and THREE such papers for Economics disciplines.
Part-B	January to March (3 months)	Term-end exam: End of March	THREE papers are offered; TWO of them are discipline specific, while the other will be Self-Study Paper-1 related to broad area of the scholar's topic. This paper has to be suggested by the Supervisor concerned in consultation with the Scholar's DC.
Part-C	April to June (3 months)	-	There will be Self-Study Paper-2. This Part is devoted to the preparation of tentative research proposal/broad theme paper to be presented in the June bi-annual seminar. This paper has to be suggested by the Supervisor concerned in consultation with the Scholar's DC.

The rationale for the course papers shall be given in the study material prepared by the Paper Coordinators to be circulated among the PhD Scholars.

1.11.2 Assignments

- a) The number of assignments in any course shall not be more than TWO. Wherever appropriate, one of the assignments could be a term paper and the other, a seminar presentation.
- b) If the course is taught by more than one faculty member, the assignments shall be notified by the course coordinator, preferably at the start of the course, in consultation with other instructors.
- c) Separate Assignments should be given for each scholar in order to ensure active engagement by PhD Scholars with the course work.

1.11.3 Courses and Teaching methods

- a) In the “Perspectives on Social and Economic Change” and “Research Methodology” Courses (and in other courses where this could be applicable) teaching method shall be discussion or seminar mode.
- b) Instructors may give an introductory lecture for 15-20 minutes, followed by a scholar presenting a particular reading, or set of readings, and a focused discussion on the reading, thus ensuring that each scholar has done the reading for that day in that course.
- c) Each paper shall consist of 35-40 sessions. Not more than two assignments shall be given by the paper co-ordinators in consultation with the main teaching faculty in the paper concerned.
- d) Classroom participation shall carry not more than 10% of the total marks. The course coordinator, in consultation with the other faculty teaching the course shall decide on the modality for awarding marks for classroom participation. This shall be notified to the PhD Scholars at the beginning of the course.
- e) Lectures/discussion sessions shall be held on all working days continuously for, as many days as there are number of sessions. The time schedule of lectures shall be announced and made available to the PhD Scholars at the commencement of Parts A and B. A PhD Scholar who has not attended at least three-fourths of total number of sessions shall not be allowed to take the examinations.
- f) The period of course work will incorporate more hands-on-training, including facilitating familiarity with computer packages, and short field trips to familiarise the scholar with field work; the latter, particularly, may be combined with some themes being taught in the Research Methods course.
- g) Apart from the three Core Courses taught in Part-A, other courses will be the responsibility of Centers concerned. Every Centre must develop a given number of courses in the beginning. From these, every year, a number of courses must be taught depending on faculty availability, willingness, and scholar interest.
- h) Self Study Papers: SS-1 and SS-2 may be planned in the following manner: SS-1 shall broadly relate to the scholar’s area of interest. SS-2 shall be more closely related to the topic on which the scholar may wish to work for her/his PhD dissertation. Both SS-1 and SS-2 should be done in consultation with the members of the Doctoral Committee.
- i) SS-1 shall be part of Part B (December – March) and SS-2 (April – June) of Part C. Part C, then, would consist of SS-2, and developing a paper on the scholar’s broad area of interest for presentation in June Bi-annual Seminar.
- j) During Part A, a parallel stream of lectures may be arranged whereby all faculty members would have an opportunity to speak to the Ph D Scholars about their specific areas of research, as well as talk about new areas of research in the disciplines or sub-disciplines in order to widen the PhD Scholars’ horizons regarding possible areas of research. These lectures could be arranged occasionally in the afternoons.
- k) A non-credit course in Academic Writing to improve the PhD Scholars’ abilities of written communication will be offered in Part B.
- l) Econometrics/Basic Statistics (BS) requirement: PhD Scholars with Economics/Statistics background must do the Econometrics course in Part-A. Any scholar who does not have an Economics/Statistics background, even if s/he belongs to one of the Economics related Centres (for example, CEENR and ADRTC), shall be allowed to do Basic Statistics, if he or she so opts, and in consultation with the Centre concerned.

- m) Course coordinators must teach, compulsorily, at least 60% of the course that they are coordinating.
- n) The number of resource persons in any course shall not normally exceed two. Thus, including possibly two course coordinators, the number of instructors shall not normally exceed four in any course.
- o) In case resource persons are being drawn, the foundations of the course must be taught by the coordinator(s) and the participation of resource persons must be on the basis of thematic modules, rather than to teach single themes.
- p) Course coordinators must discuss a course (by first circulating a draft copy of the proposed course, and then discussing and defending it) in a meeting of the Centre concerned. Such meetings may be attended also by the Director, the VC of Academic Programmes Committee and the PhD. Co-ordinator.
- q) As far as possible effort should be made to provide details of themes to be covered in a course, as well as reading materials, before the course commences.
- r) Scholar-feedback on teaching and courses shall be obtained in the prescribed format at the end of each Part (APPENDIX-A).

1.11.4 Examinations and Evaluation of Course work

- a) The performance of PhD Scholars in all the papers in Part A and B shall be evaluated by internal assignments and term end-semester examinations.
- b) Each course will be evaluated on the basis of (i) a written examination, (ii) assignments and/or presentations and (iii) classroom participation as follows:
  - 1. Total marks for written test: 60 (for Part Time students it should be valued for 70 marks)
  - 2. Total marks for two assignments: 30 (for all students)
  - 3. Total marks for classroom participation: 10 marks (for full time students only)
  - 4. Minimum marks for passing 50% in each of the three components for full time students, and 50% in 1 & 2 components in respect of Part-time students.
  - 5. Students who fail in more than three papers in Part-A and two papers in Part-B shall not be eligible for re-examination.

The Paper Co-ordinator awards marks to full-time PhD Scholars for classroom participation in consultation with the teaching faculty involved.

- c) In SS-1 and SS-2 there will be no written examination. However, these papers will consist of assignments, hands on exercises, readings, book reviews etc., as may be suggested by the Supervisor concerned in consultation with the Doctoral Committee members. These papers will be assessed for a maximum of 100 marks each. Securing a minimum of 50 marks in each of these papers is compulsory.
- d) If a PhD Scholar fails or absents in any examination, for whatever reasons, he/she shall be given a second and final examination not later than one month from the declaration of the result of the first examination. A PhD Scholar who fails, or absents himself in the second and final test for whatever reasons, shall be discontinued from the programme from the date of declaration of the result of the second and final examination.

e) A PhD. Scholar who fails in Part A may be allowed to proceed to Part B but the declaration of the result of Part B shall be withheld till he/she passes the second and final test in Part A. However, a PhD Scholar who fails in Part B may be allowed to proceed with the preparation of the comprehensive research proposal under Part C only after he/she passes the second and final examination in Part B

1.12 PhD Programme for Part-Time PhD Scholars (including those on FIP) and Affiliated Post-Doctoral Scholars

1.12.1 PhD Scholars belonging to the above categories must undertake to comply with the biannual/pre-registration and pre-submission seminars as applicable to the regular PhD Scholars.

1.12.2 Until the seminar requirements are duly complied with, the synopsis/thesis of the scholar concerned shall not be forwarded to the University.

1.12.3 Post-Doctoral PhD Scholars should present an initiation seminar at the beginning and a completion seminar at the end based on the findings of their study.

1.12.4 In addition to the above requirements, foreign scholars belonging to any of the above categories have to pay the Institute an affiliation fee of Rs. 10,000/- per year; for less than half-yearly period it shall be Rs.5,000/-.

1.12.5 PhD Scholars belonging to the above categories should deposit the prescribed refundable amount for the library reference/borrowing facilities.

1.12.6 For all Indian doctoral/post-doctoral affiliations a sum of Rs. 5,000/- per year shall be charged as institutional fee to the Institute.

1.13 External PhD Programme

The Institute has started External PhD Programme (EPP) from 2009. The applications for EPP will be scrutinised and evaluated by a specially constituted Committee. Only after the Committee clears the proposal will the candidate be called for personal interaction and after satisfactory performance admitted to EPP. The External PhD Scholars have the option of attending the classes though attendance is not compulsory. They shall pass the 10-month PhD Foundation Course applicable to the regular PhD Scholars. The Institute will allot Supervisors to External PhD Scholars (EPS).

The EPS shall adhere to all conditions and regulations stipulated by the University (where registered) and the Institute. They will have the regular Doctoral Committee and Biannual Seminars similar to the regular PhD Scholars of ISEC. There shall not be financial obligation of any kind on the part of the Institute on account of the external candidates.

Faculty member (recognised guides only) will be permitted to supervise only one external PhD Scholar at a time, after taking Director's permission, in a block period of 3 years or submission of the thesis by the EPS, whichever is earlier.

The EPS must complete the stipulated period of stay at the Institute as may be decided by the Doctoral Committee. The Institute will charge appropriate fee on an annual basis, from time to time.

EPS will be permitted to use the library facilities on payment of a library fee applicable to part-time PhD Scholars. They shall have no claim on the use of computer facilities, office or hostel accommodation in the Institute.

No faculty member of the Institute shall take candidates for PhD supervision directly other than through the above procedure.

1.14 PhD Viva-voce at ISEC

The following procedure should be followed in the conduct of open PhD Viva-voce:

- a) One of the outside BA Seminar Panel of Experts to be invited for the PhD Viva (preferably the expert who would have attended maximum number of BA Seminars should be invited).

If both the BA Seminar Panel of Experts are from within the Institute, the Director may invite a suitable person from out of the two names to be suggested by the concerned Supervisor for the purpose.

- b) All the Doctoral Committee members shall be invited for the Viva-Voce.
- c) The thesis should be placed in the library 8 days before the Viva-Voce along with an abstract of the thesis. This should be informed to the invitees (DC Members, faculty and students) for the Viva, by a circular.
- d) PhD Thesis Examiners' name should be mentioned at the time of Viva-Voce. The DC members should be provided access to the examiners' reports at the time of Viva-Voce.

1.15 Awards/Prizes

1.15.1 Professor D M Nanjundappa Endowment Prize

In honour of Professor D M Nanjundappa, an eminent economist, ISEC has instituted an Endowment Prize with a view to encourage PhD Scholars perform better and reward PhD Scholars of excellence. There will be two Prizes – one in Economics and another in non-economics disciplines. The prizes shall be awarded to the highest scoring Scholar in the first attempt in the aggregate marks in Part A. Those scoring less than 60% or not passing in the first attempt will be ineligible for the prizes. A committee consisting of the Director, Vice-Chairman of APC, Registrar and the PhD Programme Coordinator and the AR (Acad) shall decide the awardees. Each award shall carry a plaque and prize worth Rs.1,200/-. In case more than one Scholar scoring equal marks, the prize money would be divided among them equally. The prize/s will be awarded on the occasion of the Institute's Founders Day Celebration on 20th of January.

1.15.2 Justice Shri Venkatramaiah Endowment Prize in Political Science

The Institute has instituted an endowment prize since 2000 in the name of Justice E S Venkataramiah in Political Science. It will be awarded once in five years to the outstanding PhD thesis of the Institute. A certificate, prize money of Rs.10,000/- and a plaque will be awarded on the occasion of the Founders' Day Celebration.

1.15.3 Professor M N Srinivas Endowment Prize in Sociology

The Institute has instituted an endowment prize since 2000 in the name of Professor M N Srinivas in Sociology. It will be awarded once in five years to the outstanding PhD thesis of the Institute. A certificate, prize money of Rs.10,000/- and a plaque will be awarded on the occasion of the Founders' Day Celebration.

1.15.4 Professor V K R V Rao Endowment Prize in Economics

The Institute has instituted an endowment prize since 2000 in honour of its founder Professor V K R V Rao in Economics. The Fund is created for the purpose with contributions from both Institute and a donation from Professor G K Kadekodi. It will be awarded once in five years to the outstanding PhD thesis of the Institute. A certificate, prize money of Rs.10,000/- and a plaque will be awarded on the occasion of the Founders' Day Celebration.

1.15.4 Shri T R Satish Chandran Endowment Prize in Economics

The Institute has instituted an endowment prize since 2000 in the name of Shri T R Satish Chandran in Economics. The Fund is created for the purpose with contributions from ISEC faculty/staff members and donations from few other donors. It will be awarded once in five years to the outstanding PhD thesis of the Institute. A certificate, prize money of Rs.10,000/- and a plaque will be awarded on the occasion of the Founders' Day Celebration.
